

EDITORIAL

This Special Issue of Prometheus, devoted to “Communication Futures in Australia”, was proposed and organized by Guest Editor, John Langdale. As he explains in his introductory statement, the papers were drawn from those presented at a Workshop sponsored by the Australian Academy of Social Sciences and held at Macquarie University in February 1996. The focus was on the potential contribution of the social sciences to an understanding of Australia’s communication futures.

Don Lamberton