

Regulatory Implications of Telecommunications Convergence

David N. Townsend

Geneva, International Telecommunication Union, 1997, iii + 73 pp., ISBN 9 2610 6441 8

This document represents a Briefing Report on the ITU's Regulatory Colloquium No. 6. It contains 10 chapters covering general themes of convergence with more specific chapters on regulatory challenges to convergence in telephony, cable television, the Internet, wireless communications and public services such as government information. This report was funded by the World Bank and the Friedrich Ebert Foundation.

Brilliant Careers: Women Collectors and Illustrators in Queensland

Compiled by Judith McKay

Brisbane, Queensland Museum, 1997, vii + 80 pp., AU$19.95, ISBN 0 7242 7693 9

This book records the largely unknown achievements of 34 women who, as scientific collectors and illustrators, have enriched the knowledge of the Queensland environment and its people.

An Automation Policy for Australia: Advanced Technology at Work for the Nation

Australian Robot Association

Sydney, Australian Robot Association, 1995, v + 35 pp., AU$20.00, ISBN 0 6463 2509 5

This brief paper set out what are the Australian Robot Association's views of a possible automation policy for Australia.

RAJ